Claims Rejected

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 6-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vandervoort '665 and Stine '096. Both patents show a main transmission 12, with 5 gears selectively engageable with mainshaft 28A, two gears 120 and 124 selectively engageable and supported on output shaft 122. The highest numerical gear ratio of the main transmission is engaged by gear 56 to the mainshaft. Any one of the three speed ratios of the auxiliary gear box 14 is engageable while gear 56 is engaged.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 6, 8, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fletcher '313. Fletcher shows a main transmission 12, an auxiliary transmission 14 with three engageable ratios, and wherein the ratios are all engageable when the highest numerical gear ratio of the main transmission is engaged.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as unpatentable over Vandervoort '665 or Stine '096. The gear ratio spread for these transmissions is about 17:1. The examiner takes Official Notice that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in this art to increase the gear ratio spread to 19:1 or greater.

Prior Art Discussed

The examiner has considered the references cited in applicant's Information Disclosure Statement filed concurrently with the application. None of the references show all of the features of the claimed invention.

The references cited by the examiner are deemed pertinent to applicant's disclosure. All of the cited references show main transmissions combined with range or splitter auxiliary transmissions.
